Child Outcomes

Fayette County Head Start and Early Head Start served a total of 141 children during the 2022 – 2023 program year. The program did not achieve 100% of its funded enrollment of 161 children on a monthly basis, who were all eligible to receive Head Start Services and 100% of its funded enrollment of 76 in its Early Head Start program. The under enrollment was the result of the challenges resulting from the aftermath of the COVID-19 virus pandemic. Comprehensive services were provided in the areas of education, health, social services, parent involvement and family engagement services to all children and their families who were enrolled.

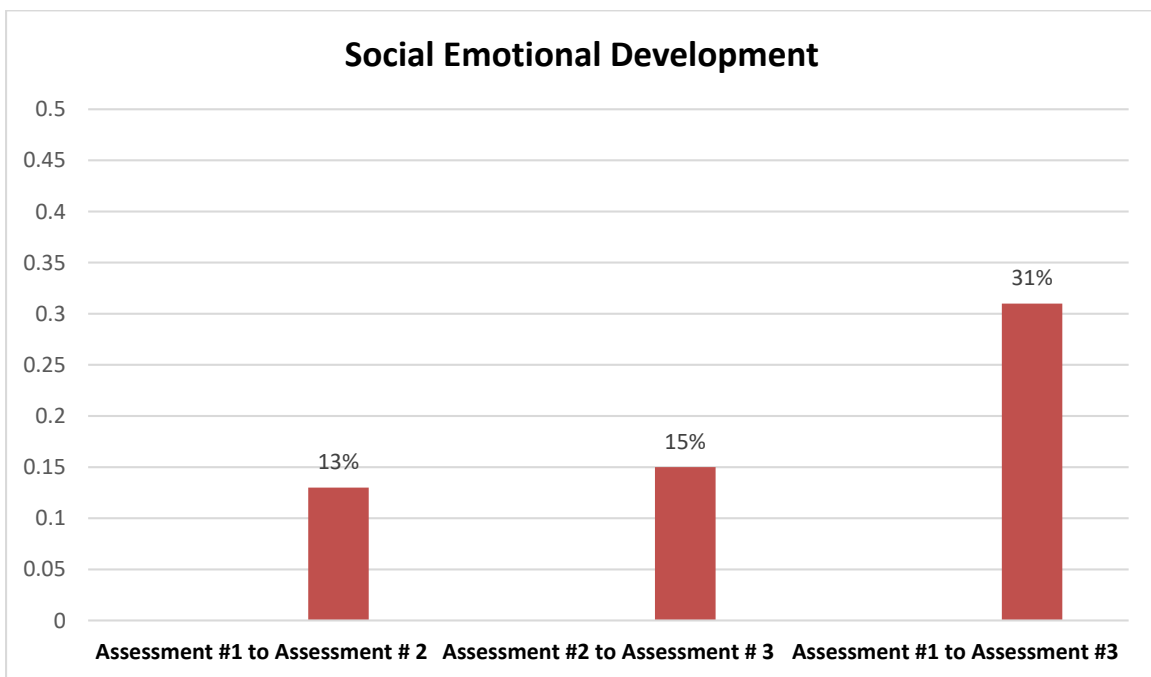

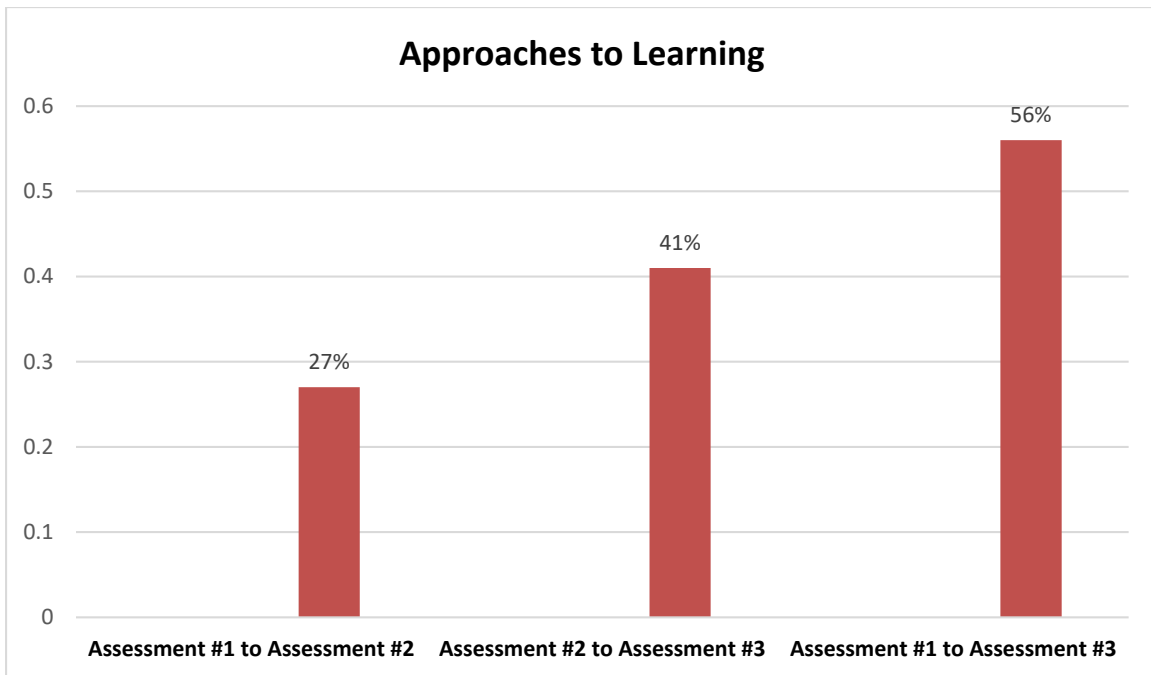

Fayette County Head Start's commitment of providing comprehensive services was evident in the percentage of children that received services mandated in health as well as the progress shown in other areas throughout the program year. In the areas of health, children received the following;

	Head Start/Early Head Start
a. Preventive/Primary Medical Exams =	86% / 86%
b. Preventative/Dental Exams =	80% / 88%

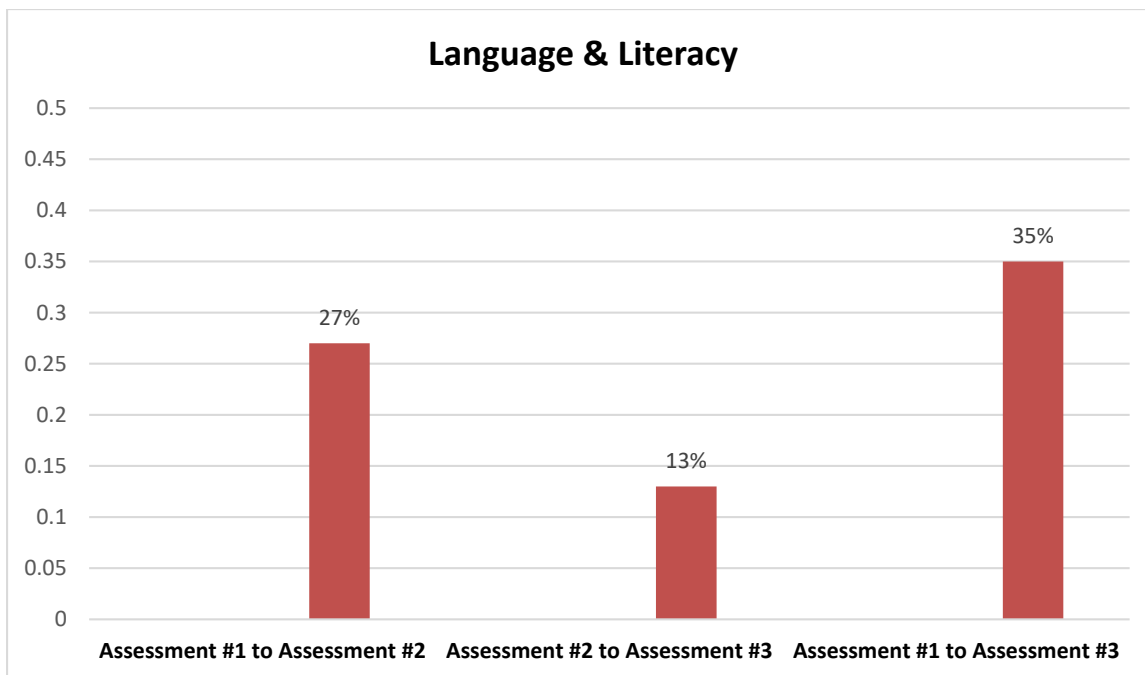

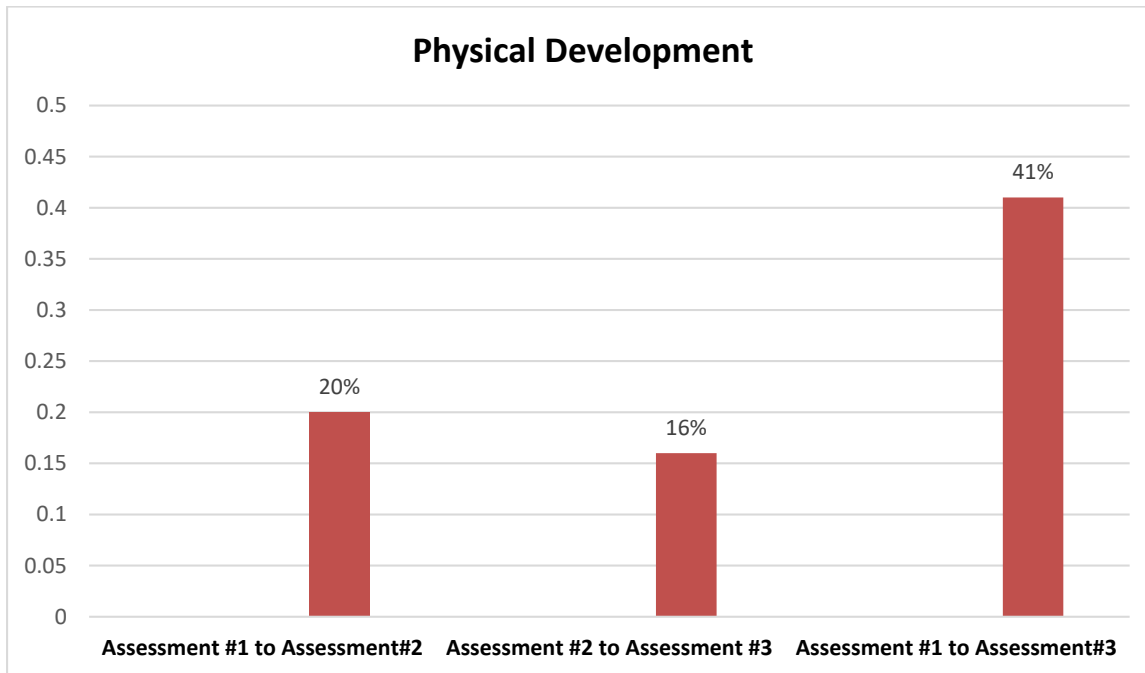

The less than 100% completion of medical and dental examinations of children, within the first 90 days of enrollment was influenced by the fact that some children left the program within that timeframe, i.e. they were enrolled less than 90 days or there were other family issues which prevented them from meeting this deadline.

Enrolled children showed progress in all cognitive and physical/health areas as follows;

Transition Services

Fayette County Head Start and Pre-Kindergarten programs transitioned a total of 56 children into kindergarten programs, in their respective local schools. A total of 35 Early Head Start children transitioned into Preschool Head Start. The Grantee implements transition activities early in the program year to ensure that children leaving our child development program have a smooth entry into the Preschool Head Start, public school or another pre-kindergarten placement. Families are supported throughout the transition process. To promote the continued involvement of parents in the education and development of their child, upon transitioning to school, the program takes the following steps;

- Provide education and training to parents in order to prepare them to exercise their rights and responsibilities concerning the education of their children in the elementary school setting.
- Assist parents to communicate with teacher and other personnel so that they can participate in decisions related to their child's education. Additional transition activities include;
- Coordinating with schools and other agencies to ensure that a child's relevant records are transferred to the school or next placement upon signed parent request.
- Conducting outreach activities to encourage communication between staff and their school counterparts.
- Conducting meetings which include Head Start or Pre-kindergarten teachers, parents and kindergarten or applicable school teachers. This activity occurs through the Board of Education's "Shadowing Program."

- Conducting joint transition related training workshops for staff and the school system, or other applicable child development program staff. In coordination with child's parents, Fayette County Head Start/Pre-K notifies the prospective school of the transitioning child's upcoming enrollment, prior to the date of enrollment.
